ARE YOU UP FOR THE CHALLENGE?

The Hospitality and Tourism Management master’s program requires a minimum of 33 credit hours for students who choose the thesis option or non-thesis option. For both options, 18 credit hours are required core courses. Students in the thesis option must also take nine credit hours of a restricted elective and six credit hours of thesis work. Students in the non-thesis option must take 15 credit hours of electives.

You can complete your degree either fully online or face-to-face, or customize it through a mix of both to fit your schedule and budget, although the thesis option is not available to students who study fully online.

“The master’s program at Rosen College has given me the opportunity to be competitive among my peers in terms of experience and education. The doors it has opened are amazing.”

JOSH WILSON, GUEST SERVICE MANAGER, WALT DISNEY WORLD RESORT OPERATIONS
MASTER OF SCIENCE IN HOSPITALITY AND TOURISM MANAGEMENT

This program will build on your strengths and interests, broaden your industry knowledge, sharpen your management skills, and incorporate your professional and extracurricular experiences.

The ideal candidate:

• Is a professional working in a position related to hospitality, tourism or events
• Holds an undergraduate degree in hospitality, business management or a related discipline
• Understands that advanced educational training is required to be competitive in a thriving hospitality, tourism and event industry

The program requires a minimum of 33 credit hours. There are six required courses totaling 18 credit hours, including:

1. Managing Hospitality and Guest Services Organizations
2. Financial Analysis of Hospitality Enterprises
3. Strategic Marketing in Hospitality and Tourism
4. Critical Issues in Hospitality Human Resources
5. Hospitality/Tourism Strategic Issues
6. Data Analysis in Hospitality and Tourism Research

You may choose a thesis or nonthesis option:

Thesis: This option is for students who are interested in the scientific study of the hospitality and tourism industry, and who may pursue a doctoral or professional research position. In addition to the six required courses, students must take nine credit hours of restricted electives and six credit hours of thesis work.

Nonthesis: This option is for students who aspire to a leadership position in the hospitality and tourism industry. The emphasis is on coursework, practical experience and real-world insight. In addition to the six required courses, students must take 15 credit hours of restricted electives.
GRADUATE CERTIFICATES

Shorter, more flexible niche programs are for students who do not currently have the time or desire to complete a full master’s degree program. We offer two certificates consisting of three 3-credit courses available in a flexible format. Each certificate is designed to be completed within one calendar year or three academic terms (i.e., fall, spring and summer).

Graduate Certificates available:
- Graduate Certificate in Event Management
- Graduate Certificate in Destination Marketing and Management
- Graduate Certificate in Hospitality and Tourism Technology

DOCTORATE IN HOSPITALITY MANAGEMENT

UCF is home to Florida’s first stand-alone doctorate in hospitality management. Our doctoral program prepares individuals for teaching and research-based careers in academia or as practitioner researchers and field consultants in hospitality and tourism organizations.

With a generous financial-aid package, world-class faculty and all the benefits you would expect from the largest purpose-built facility of its kind in the United States, Rosen College’s doctoral program provides you the education and research needed to launch your academic or consulting career.

“Courses engage students to work collaboratively with companies within the Central Florida area. Rosen College offers students a chance to grow as individuals and connect with industry leaders, which has been invaluable to my executive career.”

NATALIE STARR, FLORIDA DIVISION RECRUITER AND HR ASSISTANT, UPS
JOIN US

Our graduate programs are designed for well-rounded individuals who bring unique insight to the classroom. The admissions committee evaluates candidates on many factors, including work experience, professional character, leadership qualities, degree of motivation and demonstrated scholastic ability.

UPON COMPLETION OF THIS PROGRAM, A GRADUATE IS:

• Well-prepared for higher-level management and leadership positions with the knowledge, connections and experience to gain a competitive edge in the marketplace

• A mature, self-confident and well-connected professional who will apply high-level academic knowledge to real-world management challenges

• Equipped to handle the analytical, financial, logistical, operational and management challenges that managers face on a daily basis

“After my first week at Rosen College, I knew I’d made a perfect choice. Every assignment and every class has made me not only a better employee, but also a better person.”
